Tom Long: The Time Adventure - Walkthrough

Home Hallway:
Tom has to convince his mother that he'll to do his homework. Go to Tom's room and take the BOOK and the FLOPPY DISK. Put the FLOPPY DISK into the computer. Open the drawer and take the TOOLBOX. Go back to the hallway. Once your mother leaves, you can take the mailbox KEY, open the mailbox and get the PACKAGE. Return to Tom's room. Open the PACKAGE and use the TOOLBOX on the computer to open it. Install the HARDWARE, close the computer and insert the McCain FLOPPY DISK. Helen appears and is sucked into the computer. Your Father then shows up. You can skip his questions by pressing Esc. In the hallway, use the phone to order a pizza with nothing on it. Back in your room, take a look at the computer. You'll see the support line number. Make another call from the hallway and the game programmer will soon come. Keep talking to him until he lets you enter the program (to rescue Helen). Go back to your room and use the screen.

Inside the game:
Take DON TOMATOS'S PICTURE and use the lift. Take the NOTEBOOK and use the lift again. Use the NOTEBOOK on the laptop and see that a drawing program is running on it. Use the PICTURE on the laptop. You are now Don Tomato. Use the lift, open the cabinet and take the RECORD and the WHEEL. Tell the tomato to get off the running wheel. Attach the WHEEL to the generator and push it to break the door open.

Train station:
Read the announcement at the ticket counter and take the SCISSORS. Ask the ticket inspector where Don Tomato has gone. Use the SCISSORS on the BOOK to receive a WATCH. Give the WATCH to the inspector, who then decides it's time to leave. Go right to the railway switch and set it to the time period the inspector mentioned (Middle Ages). Board the train.

Middle Ages:
Take the GRAMOPHONE, the STICK and the TIGHTS and then go right into Merlin's cave. Talk to Merlin in order to get the GLOVE. Go back to Robin Hood and have an archery contest with him. Having the GLOVE makes you win, so Robin agrees to help you rescue Helen.

Nottingham Castle:
Tell the guard that the wine is meant for the guards, and he'll let you enter. Take the HAY, use it with the WATER BUCKET and then with the FIREPLACE. Go to the Sheriff's window and use the BURNING HAY on it. Tell the Sheriff that the guard started the fire and then jumped down the well. Use the SCISSORS on the well rope. Go to the Sheriff's office and use the RECORD on the GRAMOPHONE. The snake is charmed and is now harmless. Take the KEY, the SNAKE, the CAGE and the GAME which is on the table. In your inventory use the STICK with the OILY RAG in order to make a TORCH. Now, go out to the fireplace and light the TORCH. Return to the office and go down into the dungeon. Give the GAME to the guards and catch the RAT with the CAGE. Use the KEY on the cell door to free Helen. A short cutscene follows, in which your girlfriend gets injured.

Merlin's Cave:
Merlin tells you that in order to heal Helen he needs 3 ingredients: some silver, a dragon's eggshell and a big tomato. Leave the cave and head for the Time-Station. There, set the switch for the Wild West and climb the train.

Wild West:
Talk to the galley boy and release the RAT (Use it in the inventory). Go into the storeroom and take the HARDTACK, the STOKER'S UNIFORM and the RAT again. Go to the engine room and tell the stoker that you're there to relieve him. Head back to the Time-Station.

Stone Age:
Use the HARDTACK on the thornbush. The way into the cave is now clear. Go inside and talk to the Director. Show him the SNAKE and he'll run off. Now press the buttons on the terminal and exit the cave. Climb the vine up and look at the dinosaur egg. Shortly afterwards the pterosaur hatches and you can now get the DINOSAUR EGGSHELL. Head back to the Time-Station and then back to the Wild West.

Wild West:
Talk to the galley boy about the graphics glitch. This reveals that he's afraid of loud noises. Pull the signal cord and he'll be caught in the glitch. Take his BRUSH and go to the engine room. Use the BRUSH on the dirty plate on the wall. Now you can read it. Pull the lever in order to stop the engine. When the captain arrives, tell him that there's been an engine failure and that he has to dock the ship. Go to the deck and use the McCAIN crate in order to hide inside it. This way you are brought ashore.

Ashore:
Talk to the soap merchant and convince him that you want to help him. He gives you a LETTER and some SOAP. Go into the saloon. The bouncer won't allow you in because you aren't old enough. Once outside, use the SCISSORS on the horse to get a tuft of HORSEHAIR. Use HORSEHAIR as a moustache and enter the saloon again. Talk to the barmaid and give her the LETTER. She thanks you and says she will help you if you bring her a nice garment. Give her the TIGHTS and she'll call Greenhorn-Jim to the saloon. Talk to Greenhorn-Jim and tell him that his friend, the Broken Eagle, is after him. That will make him get drunk. Talk to him again, until you convince him that the rivets on his rifle are made of tin. He'll then give you a RIVET.

Middle Ages:
Use the SOAP on the SWORD in order to pull it out of the stone. Give the RIVET and DINOSAUR EGGSHELL to Merlin. Don Tomato will show up. You have to convince him to try the potion for the first time. Now use the SWORD on the cauldron and talk to Don Tomato again telling him to try the potion again. Once he has fallen into the cauldron, use the SWORD once more on the cauldron. Don Tomato is defeated. Head back to the Time-Station, and to Tomato's Lab from there. Take the lift upstairs and use the phone. Hardy the programmer will open a door for you that leads to the inside of your computer. There, use the modem cable, enter the portal that opens and watch the game finale.
